

Anna Nogar

Assistant Professor
Hispanic Southwest Studies
Ortega Hall, Room 415
Phone: 505-277-5907
Email: anogar@unm.edu

Research areas:
Mexican American cultural studies and literature

Colonial Latin American Literature, focus on 17th and 18th century Mexico.
Transatlantic studies.

Professor Nogar completed her graduate studies in Hispanic Literature and Mexican American studies at The University of Texas at Austin in 2008. Her current research examines the evolution of a subversive transatlantic miracle narrative from the 17th to the 21st century using a Mexican American cultural studies approach. Professor Nogar enjoys researching and teaching on the sociopolitical function of bicultural texts, and the recasting of the colonial in the present day.