

AMERICAN ARCHIVES MONTH
LUNCHTIME ARCHIVES SERIES

Hispano/Chicano Archival Collections at the UNM Center for Southwest Research

*Wednesday, October 9, noon
Zimmerman Library, Frank Waters Room*

Bring your laptop, bring your iPad, bring your lunch! – we'll provide drinks and dessert.

Celebrate Hispanic Heritage Month with an overview of CSWR archival sources for your research, from 16th century Spanish documents to 21st century Chicano activism, literature, and the arts. Hear from Chicano and Hispano scholars about their use of archives, including:

Christine Sierra, Professor of Political Science / Dir. of Southwest Hispanic Research Institute
LM Garcia y Griego, Professor of History and Chicano Studies/Dir. Land Grant Studies Program
Samuel Sisneros, Archivist, Center for Southwest Research

With Nancy Brown-Martinez, Ann Massmann and Suzanne Schadl, University Libraries.

Co-sponsored by UNM's Center for Southwest Research, Southwest Hispanic Research Institute; Chicana and Chicano Studies; Land Grant Studies Program; and Inter-American Studies of the University Libraries.

[Photo credit: "Joe Aragon, Mayordomo." El Cerrito y La Acequia Madre Collection, CSWR PICT #2003-014, Sharon Stewart, photographer. Online at econtent.unm.edu]

The UNM Center for Southwest Research & Special Collections
(505) 277-6451, cswrref@unm.edu, website: library.unm.edu/cswr